We are all spread all over the world and we will see a lot of problems and different approaches in order to have the dream of a shared network. But there was a time, which can be considered the original time, that people wished to change the way they collaborate. And then a group of people got together and decided to start building these things that could fulfill that dream. And thus began SMLI. This group wanted to bring the physical objects for sharing documents, files and code to the people and have a big impact. That was the main goal in order to create some technology to make this dream work. SMLI had the idea and the technology to create a massive and pervasive network of computers that will allow people to share code, documents, code, and have a better collaboration in the industry and outside. SMLI took some of the most popular and widespread technologies from the Industry and then built a solid foundation for connecting 6d1f23a050
